

Elizabeth Catlett

Elizabeth Catlett was a graphic artist and sculptor that did work on racial and financial inequality. She moved to Mexico and portrayed views of the working class, the poor, and those who were left out.

She made works that made them feel special, dignified, and important.

Color “Sharecropper” below. On a separate piece of paper, draw a portrait of someone that you think is important.

“Sharecropper” 1952