Philadelphia --- Come join Art Sphere Inc. to celebrate Art Sphere's 25th Milestone Anniversary on March 25, 2023, from 1 -3 p.m. with Heart, Art, and Soul. This is a free concert to celebrate the history of Black music from its earliest roots through current expressions that have influenced music around the world. The event will take place at the Bok Building, 800 Mifflin St., Philadelphia, PA 19148.

This rocking event will feature local Black musicians to celebrate the historic contributions of Black music in the Philadelphia area. Featured artists include Brown Sugar and the Leroy Hawks Band. If you like to listen to the Rolling Stones, Otis Redding, James Brown you will love this amazing double line-up concert!

Art Sphere Inc. (www.artsphere.org) is a local non-profit that has been providing free art classes in Philadelphia's inner-city neighborhoods since 1998. ASI's vast array of classes, both in-person and online, bring together art-making with music, dance, math, ecology and other topics to stimulate young minds and expose youth to the many ways of incorporating art into life.

Tickets are pay-what-you-can, to support our programs, and admission for children is free (up to 3 children per adult). Tickets are limited. Register at <https://artsphere.org/get-ready-for-heart-art-and-soul>.
